

Dr. Betty Baba is a part-time professor at the University of Calgary. She holds a Ph.D. in sociology- Anthropology with a combined focus on women and gender studies from the University of Lille Paris, Her research interest includes violence against women, and the ongoing Portrayal of the powerlessness of women, despite domestic and international laws that guarantee women `s rights are human rights. She has published socio-Anthropologie de la polygynie au Ghana. ``Le cas du pays Dagomba . She has also published articles in both English and French and contributed to chapter in feminist journey book.

Betty Baba is a sociologist by training. She is more specifically interested in gender as well as issues of violence against women. A researcher and specialist in issues related to social gender relations, her research, carried out in Canada and Africa, takes a critical-feminist perspective on relationships between women and men as well as on the discourses in which they are inscribed.

Publications

Co-auteure - 2015

Resilience and Triumph: Immigrant Women Tell Their Stories
Book Project Collective

Andersen M., Blackhouse C., Baba B. - 2010

Feminist Journeys
Société d'histoire féministe

Media appearances

ICI Radio-Canada Première – 2014

Ottawa Citizen – 2014

Trinidad Express Newspapers - 2014